

SOMERSET REGIONAL ANIMAL HOSPITAL

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Somerset Regional Animal Hospital, a cherished veterinary clinic serving the Somerset County region, has unveiled its newly transformed state-of-the-art clinic, thanks to the dedication of Gillis Gilkerson (GGI). The extensive renovation and expansion project, initiated in early 2022, have culminated in a spacious, modern facility designed to provide exceptional care for animals throughout the community.

Under the guidance of Tyler Barnes, President of Gillis Gilkerson, and Project Manager Jared King, the project's vision became a reality. The +/- 5,000 square foot building now features a welcoming waiting room, four private offices, an employee lounge, five exam rooms, a central treatment room, advanced x-ray and operating rooms, and a fully fenced yard area to ensure the safety of all animals.

Tyler Barnes shared his enthusiasm about the project, saying, "We collaborated closely with Somerset Animal Hospital's leadership team to create a well-thought-out space that enhances their ability to provide top-notch patient care. The renovation effectively doubled the size of the original building while modernizing the workspace. This new facility is truly top of the line, prioritizing both patient care and employee comfort."

Co-owner Al Rayne expressed his excitement about the transformed facility, stating, "We are ecstatic over our new facility. The updated interior features and overall expansion ensure that we have plenty of room for our team to grow."

With diligent work overseen by Superintendent Steve Eshleman, the original building was demolished to make way for the enhanced veterinary clinic, positioning Somerset Regional Animal Hospital to serve the community for many years to come.
