

CARL M. FREEMAN FOUNDATION

SELBYVILLE, DELAWARE

Gillis Gilkerson took pride in collaborating with the Carl M. Freeman Foundation when the non-profit required assistance with refurbishing the facade of their headquarters located at 31255 Americana Parkway in Selbyville, Delaware. The architectural charm of the Carl M. Freeman Foundation building lies in its contemporary design and emphasis on natural illumination. Gillis Gilkerson played a roll in enhancing the exterior by installing upgraded cladding.

"We are always happy to work with non-profit organizations, no matter the size of the job," said Dwight Miller, Executive Consultant for Gillis Gilkerson. "We have a great working relationship with the Carl M. Freeman Foundation. Our teams worked quickly and efficiently in order to complete the job in a timely manner."

"Gillis Gilkerson has been a pleasure to work with. They are reliable and trusted construction experts that we feel confident working with on projects of any scope. We especially appreciate their ability to problem solve and create real-time solutions while maintaining excellent communication with all parties involved."
