

MACH-1 EXPRESS WASH

GEORGETOWN, DELAWARE

Gillis Gilkerson completed construction on Mach-1 Express Wash located at 20945 N. Dupont Highway in Georgetown, Delaware. The Georgetown location is Mach-1's first location to open in Delaware, with convenient access from Dupont Highway, and adjacency to Wawa and AutoZone. The car wash features a +/- 4,600 square foot, 130-foot long wash tunnel and nineteen free vacuum stations complete with detailing air guns and mat cleaners. Construction included two car wash queues with overhead canopies and a customer service window. Mach-1 Express Wash offers four different wash options, and three monthly unlimited package plans.

Construction of the project was lead by Gillis Gilkerson Project Manager Matt Esham, and Superintendent Chris Deinlein. The project was a first for Gillis Gilkerson, as it marked the firms first commercial car wash construction project. Mach-1 Express Car Wash opened for business in April 2023.

Matt Esham reflected on the experience, saying, "It was interesting getting to work on a car wash project. Mach-1 Express Wash has locations all over the Eastern United States, so we were able to work with an established brand, with clear design standards and a proven layout. They have perfected their business model, and know what works best for their customers. All we had to do was implement. The place looks great, it has high visibility, and every time I drive by, its packed with customers."

Gillis Gilkerson President Tyler Barnes was thrilled with the project, saying "this project was a great addition to our completed project portfolio. It's exciting to tackle new project models, and provide different learning experiences for our team. Project Manager Matt Esham and Superintendent Chris Deinlein both rose to the challenge, completing the project both on time and on budget."
