

PENINSULA IMAGING

SALISBURY, MARYLAND

In 2008, Peninsula Imaging hired Gillis Gilkerson to construct a brand new, state-of-the-art medical office building within Woodbrooke Medical Park. The 25,000 square foot facility, designed by Davis, Bowen and Friedel, offered Peninsula Imaging enough space to consolidate two of their local offices. Throughout the course of the build, Gillis Gilkerson's experience in medical construction proved to be an asset. In the 13+ years since completion, Gillis Gilkerson has worked on a number of renovation projects for Peninsula Imaging—the most recent of which was completed in February 2020 and encompassed the conversion of office space into an MRI exam room.

"Gillis Gilkerson has quite a good reputation and I can see why. They did a great job and are easy to work with. I was pretty impressed and would highly recommend their team."
