

ARTISANS' BANK

REHOBOTH BEACH, DELAWARE

Gillis Gilkerson was hired by Artisans' Bank to construct a new branch fronting Route 24 and Hood Road in Rehoboth Beach, Delaware. The ground-up project resulted in delivery of a state-of-the-art bank featuring a modern, coastal design. The building totals +/- 3,700 square feet and is comprised of a fresh and welcoming lobby, open teller stations, private offices, a conference room, break rooms, and drive-thru lanes for customer convenience. A two-story cupola tower creates a spacious feel, while adding lots of natural light and architectural interest in the lobby. The feature also adds to many exterior design choices that emphasis the bank's coastal aesthetic.

"The Gillis Gilkerson team was terrific during our construction process, from the planning stages through final delivery," said Kevin McCormick, Senior Vice President, Artisans Bank. "They ensured quality work and timely delivery, and were especially supportive via regular communication. When we had questions or changes mid-build, they offered us constructive feedback that helped us navigate the decision making process. Gillis Gilkerson was clearly prepared, knowledgeable and professional. We would recommend them to anyone."

Gillis Gilkerson Project Managers Mike Truitt and Jared King led the build with on-site management provided by Gillis Gilkerson Superintendent Don Brady.
